

Impact of GaN on passive component requirements

Martin HAUG, Würth Elektronik

In this presentation Würth Elektronik eiSos will highlight how the introduction of GaN transistors impacts the passive component requirements – in particular inductors – used in power electronics applications.