

In 2014, Dr Isabella Romeo obtained PhD in Life Sciences at the University Magna Graecia of Catanzaro. She spent an abroad stage at the Department of Chemistry of Yale University and at the Department of Chemistry in the UAM (Mexico) as Visiting Assistant in Research. She received the Paul Ehrlich MedChem Euro-PhD Network Award of Excellence and Pietro Bucci's award. She is member of the communication Team of the DCF Division of Italian Medicinal Chemistry and adviser of the Italian Chemical Society (Calabria). She is co-founder of Net4Science academic spinoff. Actually, she works on the identification of multi-target agents against SARS-CoV-2.